

Victor Ray Diversity of Thought; and Christopher Freiman, In Defense of Viewpoint Diversity

1. Explain the dispute between Victory Ray and Christopher Freiman over whether the various corporate/consumerist/neoliberal trends in universities, such as university administrations opposing unionization efforts on campus, the increased reliance on contingent labor, and appealing to students through amenities, indicate that universities are actually conservative.