

Robert Sapolsky, The Biology of Humans at Our Best and Worst

1. To understand “why did that behavior occur,” why does Robert Sapolsky insist that we consider not only what happened one second before, but also seconds to minutes before, etc., all the way back to millions of years before?