

Steven Pinker, The Better Angels of Our Nature

1. Steven Pinker identifies four causes for the long-term decline in violence around the world: the rise of states with third-party administration of justice, commerce between individuals and countries, the expanding circle, and the rise of reason. Pick two of these four causes and explain the logic and evidence for why they lead to lower rates of violence.