Dr. Hadar Khazzam-Horovitz

Office Hours: Tuesday 11:30 pm – 1:00 pm or by appointment hadarkh@uw.edu

Goals:

The sequence MODHEB 101, 102 & 103 is a full year course of Elementary Modern Hebrew. In autumn 2019, will meet twice a week in class and once a week with content online for eleven weeks, and will cover through Chapter 4 of the textbook.

Course Information & Online Resources

The plan is to meet on Mondays & Wednesdays at 9:30-11:20 am (Seattle time) in person in Savory room #158. Fridays will be used to review and work on online content or other projects asynchronously. You are required to have access to our course Canvas webpage. Access to Canvas is necessary for completing readings, homework and other assignments.

Course Policies:

Expectations of students:

- Come to class fully prepared.
- Attend all in class sessions and actively participate in the forum.
- Complete assignments on time. If difficulties turn up (such as illness, caring for others who are ill, technological problems, working from home where children need attention, etc.), let me know. We will figure out what to do to keep your learning on track.
- Abide by the standards of academic honesty and student code of conduct.
- Seek help. I will do my best to help you succeed in this class.

Course Etiquette:

- Get to class on time.
- Keep phones and other devices from making any background noise or disruption.
- Respect each other.

The goals of this course are:

- 1) Ability to write and to read both print and script
- 2) Ability to participate in and understand basic conversation on everyday topics
- 3) Ability to compose and understand simple written materials on everyday topics
- 4) Acquisition of a vocabulary of approximately 1000 words
- 5) Understanding of the principles of the structure of the Hebrew language
- 6) Basic acquaintance with the culture expressed through the Hebrew language

Course Material:

- 1) Textbook: Shalom 1 – שלום, Orly & Shalom Shoer, ISBN-13: 978-1547049660. These textbooks are accompanied by a website available at hebrewshalom.com.
- 2) Course packet.
- 3) Quizlet - online learning tool, which includes class related activities and flashcards with all the vocabulary.
- 4) Online dictionary available at: morfex.co.il

Recommended Texts:

You may wish to consider acquiring the following materials.

- 501 Hebrew Verbs - Shmuel Bolozy (recommended).
- Modern Hebrew: An Essential Grammar, Lewis Glinert or a Reference Grammar of Modern Hebrew, Edna Coffin and Shmuel Bolozy (recommended).

Student Responsibilities and Grading:

Students are responsible for daily preparation of readings and exercises. Class time will be spent primarily on activities designed to provide practice in reading, writing, listening, and speaking. These will include conversational activities, discussion of texts, listening to and discussing auditory materials, grammatical exercises, and student oral presentations.

Class participation is critical; some of what we do in class will not be in the textbook. Reviewing new vocabulary and grammatical patterns nightly is important; language learning requires consistency and is inherently cumulative. You cannot learn a language without practice.

Assignments:

1. Three compositions will be assigned. Handwritten work is required with double space! All compositions will be submitted online via Canvas.
3. A project will be assigned. This project will be divided into 3 subparts and at the last week of the quarter each student will present his/her project for 3-4 minutes. More information about the project will be discussed in the beginning of the quarter.

4. There will be weekly quizzes completed during class time.
5. Homework will be assigned daily to be completed online. Not all homework needs to be turned in; some of it we will go over together in class. At any time, however, the instructor may ask students to post the homework onto Canvas, and this work will count toward the homework grade. If students wish to turn in additional homework to get more feedback, the work will be corrected and returned, but not graded.
6. In-class and online assignments may include dictations, group work, and more. These activities contribute toward a class participation grade.

Final grades will be determined as follows:

Compositions: 30%
Project 30%
Quizzes 10%
Participation (in-class assignments): 15%
Homework: 15%

The grading scale is:

4.0 = 95
3.9 = 94
3.8 = 93 etc.

*Compositions must be submitted on time. The composition's grade will drop one letter grade for each day it is late. Students may submit corrections of their compositions to raise the grade: for example, from a C- to a C; or from a B+ to an A-. Corrected work must be turned in by the date set by the instructor. Only completely corrected assignments will be raised a mark. Compositions that were submitted late cannot be resubmitted.

* Make up policy: There will be no make-up projects, quizzes or compositions. If you miss one of these assignments, with a reasonable and justifiable excused a onetime extension will be given to drop the zero score from your records of grades.

*Students who miss online class or assignments because of illness and who wish to make up the work need to provide the instructor with a note from a medical caregiver. The make-up assignment will be designated by the instructor.

*Students are expected to arrive in class on time.

*It is understood that some students will not attend class on religious holidays. Students who miss class for observance of religious holidays will be allowed to make up missed work.

Turn off all digital devices during class unless instructed by the instructor!

* If you would like to request academic accommodations due to a disability, please contact Disabled Student Services, 448 Schmitz, 543-8924 (V/TDD). If you have a letter from Disabled Student Services indicating you have a disability that requires academic accommodations, please present the letter to the instructor, and discuss the accommodations you might need for the class.

*In cases of academic misconduct, such as plagiarism, copying someone's homework, getting inappropriate help with compositions, or cheating on quizzes or exams, the offending student will be penalized in accordance with the policy of the College of Arts and Sciences.
